

Negro Sit-in Group Arrested in New Jersey

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (AP)—A dozen sit-in demonstrators, who spent the night in City Hall to protest against alleged racial school segregation, were arrested today.

The arrests of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) led group followed an ultimatum from city officials.

The sit-in began Thursday night after a Board of Education meeting, to which about 90 white and Negro citizens came to back a demand that Negro pupils be admitted to what is now a predominantly white school.

The board refused to take any action and the CORE group vowed not to budge until the city takes "positive steps to desegregate the school."

The appeal to the board followed a refusal by the principal of the Donald A. Quarles School earlier in the day to register nine Negro pupils now attending another school.

The Quarles school is named for the late deputy secretary of defense, who previously was mayor of Englewood. It has fewer than 10 Negroes among 355 pupils registered.

There are no segregation statutes in this city of 26,000, but housing patterns in the city have tended to make school districts predominantly white or Negro.

The sit-ins, about 55 strong, took over the chamber after disrupting two school meetings with shouting and chanting.

A wild demonstration that followed the election of a CORE leader during the second of the hearings caused the board to leave the building. The demonstrators, both white and Negro, then announced that they would stay all night.

Buck Strong to Fight Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Get set to meet Buck Strong, a wavy-haired, little fellow with bulging biceps and a dollar sign for a torso.

He's going to ask your support in the fight against inflation.

Buck Strong is a cartoon invention of Al Capp, and bears some resemblance to the inhabitants of Dogpatch down to his L'il Abner shoes. But Buck Strong is on a serious mission.

His job is to warn against the dangers of inflation and appeal for "sound dollar" policies by government, business, labor and the public.

He'll turn up on motion pictures and television screens, billboards, plant posters and—naturally—the comic pages of newspapers.

He is being put to work by the Council for Economic Growth and Security, Inc. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of this business supported and tax-exempt organization.

$3,000 for TB Research Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Tuberculosis Association said today it has made a grant of $3,000 to Dr. Ted Kniker, University of Arkansas faculty member, to continue research work.

Dr. Kniker, assistant professor with the department of pediatrics and microbiology, has been doing research since July of 1959 on quicker means to diagnose tuberculosis.

Groundhog Sees His Shadow

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two groundhogs, considered the official legendary weather prophets, emerged from their holes today and saw their shadows, signifying six more weeks of winter.

Rubbing a long winter's hibernation from his eyes, Punxsutawney Phil was the first to emerge in Punxsutawney. At 7:29 a.m., he shuffled dutifully from his snugger, squinted and spied his shadow decorating frozen Gobbler's Knob. He scampered back to his cozy burrow.

The Quarryville groundhog saw its shadow at 7:51½ a.m., according to Robert W. Herr, chairman of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs here.

Herr said Dr. Carl Metzger, keeper of the field, was on watch on Crow Foot at the time the groundhog emerged, saw his shadow reflected on the snow and went back into his hole.

Attired in tall hats and long white night shirts, the members of the two groundhog clubs started out before dawn for the woods and valleys seeking out the legendary weather prophet.

They carried divining rods and other gadgets, part of their annual Feb. 2 caper.

As legend has it, if the little beast sees his shadow, it is a sign of more winter, and back he'll scamper into his hole. If there is no shadow he'll stay in the open, signifying an early spring.

The Quarryville and Punxsutawney groundhogs are generally regarded as the official weather prophets but the Philadelphia groundhog saw its shadow a week ago. Zoo Keeper Stuart Borden said the animal wasn't trying to be smart or to jump the gun. He explained that it had three skunks as underground roommates and came up for air.

But the premature forecast of the Philadelphia woodchuck was not what irritated Robert Herr, chairman of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs' board of governors here and Sam Light, president of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club in the western part of the state.

What irritated them was an announcement by the National Geographic Society that men of science had reported the groundhog a lazy creature who if left undisturbed, would sleep right through its biggest day in the warm confines of his earth-lined burrow.

Herr called that libelous. He quoted Dr. David E. Davis of Pennsylvania State University as proving "our hero comes out of hibernation in the first few days of February—always on the second."

Barges Crack the Mississippi Ice

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 50-mile-long ice floe, covering the Mississippi River from bank to bank, is moving slowly downstream and hampering river traffic, the U.S. Army corps of engineers reported.

The ice mass flowed into the Mississippi at its confluence with the Missouri near St. Charles north of St. Louis. A spokesman for the Corps of Engineers said the ice came from a jam at Waverly, Mo., that broke up Thursday.

Two boats pushed north through the floe today but found the going rough. Crewmen on the Lady Morgan said the boat's speed was reduced from seven to three miles an hour backing the ice. The Pathfinder, a boat operated by the Corps of Engineers, reported no difficulty getting through.

However, most boats were lying up at sheltered spots along the river to wait for the floe to pass.

At Cairo, Ill., where a huge ice gorge and a subsequent jam blocked river traffic for 2½ weeks before finally breaking up earlier this week, northbound boats were docking again.

French Tanks to Meet Right Wing Riots

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN

PARIS (AP)—French army tanks converged on Paris today to forestall any attempt by the right-wing Secret Army to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle as reports of an imminent peace pact for Algeria persisted.

With mounted machine guns, two squadrons totaling 32 tanks moved on the capital to give armored support to 25,000 riot police alerted against the threat of an uprising by the rightist underground.

De Gaulle will address the nation by radio and television Monday night in what shaped up as a crucial statement on the long secret negotiations with the Algerian Nationalist Liberation Front to end the seven-year rebellion.

French public opinion was being prepared for a deal with the rebels to carry out De Gaulle's policy of putting Algeria on the path to independence.

Well-informed diplomatic sources said the agreement already had been drafted and needed only the formal signatures of both sides.

France's allies reportedly have been notified that the De Gaulle regime seriously fears an attempted coup by the right-wing extremists either in France or Algeria—or in both places—when the peace accord is announced.

There were reports that some French officials hoped to provoke the Secret Army into an uprising in advance of a peace announcement on the theory that a premature putsch would be easier to crush—at least in metropolitan France.

Security forces also were reinforced in hotbeds of rightist terrorism in Algeria. Two hundred crack assault commandos moved into Algiers Thursday to reinforce French troops already put on emergency footing.

The Algerian rebel cabinet was meeting today in Tunis, reportedly to take up the projected peace accord before putting it before a special session of the National Revolutionary Council—a sort of rebel parliament—in Tripoli within the next two weeks.

Night Riding Boys Caught at Dermott

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—Five white teen-agers charged with night riding are quoted by officers as saying they attacked about a dozen Negro men "because we wanted to."

The boys, all about 18, were arrested last week and charged under the state's little-used night-riding statute, which prohibits banding together to "aggravate, assault or commit an unlawful offense."

Deputy Prosecutor Carneal Warfield said the attacks, all in this southeast Arkansas delta area, followed the same pattern.

A group of youths in a car would stop and ask a Negro man for information, and while he was talking with them, one of the youths would get out of the car, sneak up behind the man, and hit him in the face with his fist.

None of the men was injured seriously, Warfield said. One of them described the car in which the youths rode, and the arrests followed shortly.

Charged were Johnny Foshee, Donnie Bond, A. D. Hutchinson, J. D. Yother and Rickey Jones, all of Lake Village, Ark., Warfield said.

All except Bond were arraigned in Dermott Municipal Court and bound over to the Chicot County Court for trial, Warfield said.

Bond asked for a two-week postponement.

The youths were jailed in lieu of bonds ranging from $100 to $1,000. Bond and Hutchinson made bond Thursday and were released.

Warfield quoted the youths as saying they carried out the attacks because they wanted to.

Defense Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—President

Kennedy plans to send Congress next week messages on communication satellites, defense and civil defense, and education, the White House reports.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary, said Thursday that the exact dates are still to be fixed. He declined to speculate on the contents other than to say the defense message would emphasize civil defense.

Judge Retires After 30 Years

Judge W. K. Lemley

EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, MUNICIPAL JUDGE W. K. LEMLEY is retiring from the bench after almost 30 years. Appointed in March 1933, Mr. Lemley is only the second municipal judge in Hope's history. He took over from U. A. Gentry who served only a year. In that time Judge Lemley served seven full four year terms. Only once was he opposed. Although retirement from the bench is due to ill health, Judge Lemley will continue a limited law practice at his home at 321 Edgewood St.

STATE, COUNTY AND LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT officers to a man regret to see Judge Lemley retire. One officer's words serve them all — "He knew the law and followed it to the letter, make no mistake about that. We had to have a case beyond a doubt and we all knew it. He was fair to us and fair to those who faced him. You would have to wait a long way and a long time to find a better man or judge than Mr. Lemley."

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The

six-year prison term of Harry Gilliam, 42, of Huntsville, was reduced to parole eligibility Thursday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Gilliam was sentenced Feb. 23, 1961 in Carroll Circuit Court for burglary and grand larceny of a school and grocery store.

Most Wanted Criminal of '37 Caught

DALLAS (AP)—Three men, one of them among the nation's most wanted criminals in 1937 and 1938, were captured here last night after a running gun battle.

Seized were Ted Walters, a fugitive lifer from the Texas State Prison and once No. 2 on the FBI's wanted list; Henry Nickles Masling and Grady Bryant, both of Dallas. All three were held without immediate charge.

Officers W. W. Richardson, L. L. Sanders and Charles W. Lynch gave chase after a car failed to halt at a traffic signal. They reported each of the fleeing men fired several wild shots.

Walters leaped from the auto and darted into a pool of water. Richardson and Lynch found him more than an hour later.

Sanders meanwhile overtook the car and nabbed the other two men.

Walters, serving life for car theft and breaking jail, obtained two weeks' leave from prison because his wife was ill and failed to return.

Walters served federal sentences at Leavenworth, Kan., and Alcatraz for bank robbery in Arkansas before being moved to the Texas Penitentiary in 1957.

U.S. Directing New Policy of Isolating Cuba at NATO Allies

Argentine Near Break, Recalls Envoy to Cuba

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina today recalled Ambassador Julio Arcaño from Cuba, the Foreign Ministry announced.

The step had been expected as President Arturo Frondizi sought to appease military critics of his soft line toward the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba at the recent inter-American foreign ministers' conference.

Recalling the ambassador does not constitute a diplomatic break, but morning newspapers here had suggested that the crisis between the president and the nation's leading military men was nearing an end. They predicted a gradual break in relations with Cuba.

However, many officers were reported still demanding the immediate complete break which the nation's military leadership demanded in an ultimatum to the president Thursday night.

The latest crisis for Frondizi's government, now in its fourth year, stemmed from Argentina's refusal at the inter-American conference earlier this week to vote with the U.S.-supported majority to oust the Castro regime from the Organization of American States.

Published reports said the service chiefs had threatened to resign unless Frondizi swings his foreign policy to the right, breaks with Cuba and fires Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Carcano and other officials responsible for putting Argentina in the go slow block at the inter-American conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

However, Carcano emerged from the late night meeting with Frondizi and the military chiefs and gave the impression that the government had won a breathing spell.

He indicated he was not planning to resign and told newsmen that the service secretaries "listened to me with incredible patience" when he explained the Argentine stand.

Argentina joined Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia in opposing the conference's key resolution—the immediate ouster of Cuba from OAS councils—on the grounds that the OAS charter contains no legal provision for expulsion of a member.

Red Envoy Change

MOSCOW (AP)—Mikhail Menshikov, former Soviet ambassador to the United States, has been appointed foreign minister of the Russian Federal Republic, Tass announced today.

PSC, Arkla Ask Dismissal of Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Public Service Commission and Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. have asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to dismiss an appeal opposing the merger of Arkla and Mid-South Gas Co.

The PSC and Arkla contend that a suit by Wiley A. McGehee of McGehee & Mid South stockholder was filed to late to oppose the merger.

McGehee contends the merger is unfair to his company's stockholders. Pulaski Circuit Court approved the merger several weeks before McGehee filed his suit Jan. 22.

Missile Site Completion by June 25

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The first of 18 Titan II missile sites in central Arkansas is scheduled to be completed June 25, a month later than originally scheduled.

Army Engineers report the first missile site will be turned over to the Air Force on that date if work continues on schedule.

The month's delay resulted, officials said, from 62 changes in the design or field conditions at the site.

While the date when the site becomes completely operational with its missile intact remains secret, it may come as early as next year.

A Titan II is currently at Cape Canaveral, Fla., awaiting its first test launching.

Maj. Arthur R. Simpson, Liaison and briefing officer have already awarded $84 million in contracts for construction of the 18 Arkansas sites.

Additional contracts, salaries and designing are expected to boost the total to more than $100 million.

This amount is what is to be spent on construction of the sites and does not include cost of the missiles, controls and installations.

On June 25, the target date, the Air Force is to assume control of the site and begin the highly technical task of installing controls for the 5,000 range missile.

Total Embargo Coming, Ships Sail Near Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to direct prompt and urgent appeals to its NATO allies and other Allied countries to cooperate with the newly adopted inter-American policy of isolating Cuba.

The U.S. government itself is reported ready to make more extensive use of its naval forces in an effort to cut off Cuban arms shipments to subversive groups in other Latin-American countries.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also are looking into the possibility of shipping a total embargo on U.S. trade with Cuba, one effect of which would be to deny Cuba a source of income amounting to about $15 million a year at the present rate of trade.

In connection with the possible abolition of all trade with Cuba, Rusk charged Thursday at a news conference that Cuba was using American dollars to promote subversion in other countries. He didn't explain the remark.

The possibility of some move by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro against the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo is also under careful watch here, it was learned. In event of serious harassment, U.S. dependents at the big base would be brought home.

Three huge aircraft carrier, the Enterprise, Forrestal and Constellation, are cruising in the Caribbean and could be deployed speedily in the Guantanamo area if necessary.

Officials discount the chance of a Castro decision to attack Guantanamo directly since that would involve open conflict with the United States. But a battalion of Marines is said to be in the vicinity of the base in case trouble brings a need for reinforcements.

More could quickly be flown in from Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Rusk was received by Kennedy in an unusual White House welcoming ceremony when he flew back to Washington Thursday from the foreign ministers conference in Uruguay.

Kennedy praised the results of Rusk's diplomacy at Punta del Este and said the overall result was that the inter-American system had been strengthened and "communism isolated" in the Western Hemisphere.

Then, at his news conference, Rusk refuted any idea of a basic split among hemisphere nations over Cuba. He pointed particularly to unanimous adoption of a resolution declaring Cuba under the Marxist-Leninist leadership of Castro "incompatible" with the American system.

Margaret's Husband Goes to Work

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's husband went to work today just like any other commuter —except that he "traveled" by Rolls-Royce and arrived eight minutes early.
A squad of cameramen awaited
Lord Snowdon, formerly society
photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, as he drove up for his first day's work as artistic adviser to the London Sunday Times.
But Tony didn't seem too keen to see them. He zipped out of the car and was inside the building in three seconds.
Tony, 31, looked the perfect young executive in dark overcoat over a gray charcoal suit. Only the black bowler hat was missing from the usual Englishman's business getup.
He was accompanied by his chauffeur and a personal detective. Roy Thomson, Canadian owner of the Times and a string of other newspapers and television stations, waited inside to welcome him.
His main task is to advise the Thomson organization on production of a color supplement—something revolutionary in Britain—which the Times starts publishing Sunday.

Minister, CORE Secy., Goes to Jail

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A Negro minister began serving today the first of three jail terms he drew for disturbances growing out of antisegregation demonstrations.

The Rev. B. Elton Cox, a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) from High Point, N.C., was convicted in State Court Wednesday night of three misdemeanors. He was sentenced to 21 months in jail and fined $5,700.

His attorney announced two of the convictions will be appealed.
Police used tear gas and dogs to disperse a Dec. 15 demonstration by about 1,500 Negroes in front of the courthouse, where 23 Negroes had been jailed for picketing.

Johnnie Jones, Negro defense counsel, for Cox, argued the Negroes were doing nothing more than exercising their constitutional rights to free speech, and they had permission of authorities to hold the demonstration.

Judge Fred Blanche Jr. acquitted Cox of one peace disturbance charge but convicted him on three other counts and handed down these sentences: Impeding the administration of justice by holding a demonstration near the courthouse, $5,000 fine and a year in jail; sidewalk obstruction, $500 and 6 months; and failure to obey a police order to move on, $200 and 4 months.

Under Louisiana law the latter sentence is too small to be appealed and Cox was forced to go to jail although his attorney said the other two convictions would be taken to the State Supreme Court.

Ike Asks End of Feather Bedding

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called on Americans to "repudiate feather-bedding and to glorify hard work at all levels."

Addressing more than 2,000 persons at a Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night, he declared: "Wherever malingering in any group or class is condoned—whether in management, scientist or worker—progress is destined to be slow."
"Adequate leisure is not only desirable, it is healthy for mind as well as body, but unwarranted idleness in any part of the population cannot fail, correspondingly, to slow up the rate of growth."

Eisenhower said the public grew suspicious of "make-work" projects—both public and private —during the depression years of the 1930s.

He added: "Later on, in the 1940s, huge demand for all varieties of goods and services led to inefficiency and to neglect of true productivity in work performed. Today we are not lacking in specific indications that we are drifting toward a feather-bed economy."

"In saying this," he continued,
"I am not referring merely to the make-work rules adopted by some unions; rather I think we should be concerned with all the practices and trends in fields that may put present affluence above needed accomplishment—that may diminish incentive, stifle competition and, in the name of security, lessen opportunity."

Eisenhower interrupted a winter vacation at Palm Desert, 130 miles southeast of here, for a two day visit to Los Angeles. He is scheduled to meet with Republican workers today and to address a private $100-a-ticket dinner tonight.

the collapse of the strike, which began Wednesday noon.
The international union said the strike was unauthorized.

Red Aviator Charged for Espionage

BARI, Italy (AP)—Italy tonight formally charged Bulgarian air force Lt. Miluse Solakov with political and military espionage. An investigating judge in this southeastern Italian city issued an arrest warrant against the 22-year-old flier, who crash landed Jan. 20 after flying his camera-equipped MIG17 jet twice over a secret North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile base.

Two national police officers read the formal charge to Solakov in the infirmary of Bari's civil jail. He has been recovering from his crash injuries, concussion, and fractures of the left arm and collarbone.

He had tried to give the impression that he was a defector but his government contended he lost in bad weather while on a training flight over Bulgaria.

Trial for espionage under Italian law must be before a civil court, where the maximum penalty on conviction is 15 years imprisonment.

The investigating judge acted soon after Italian police turned over to him their full findings in the case, presumably including results of a study of film taken from the Bulgarian plane's aerial cameras.

Biting Cold Hits States on E. Coast

Biting cold weather stung sections in New England and upstate New York today as the season's longest spell of frigid weather held a tight grip across most of the Northeast.

An unofficial reading of 45 below was reported in Boonville, N.Y., in the foothills of the Adirondack Mountains, for the lowest mark in the icy belt.

In New England, temperatures varied 62 degrees, with readings ranging from 37 below in Old Town, Maine, to 25 above in Nantucket Island. Boston had its coldest day of winter with a reading of 5 above.

Today was the third day of zero or below weather for much of New York state. Some frigid readings included -21 in Plattsburgh, -20 in Massena, -19 in Watertown, -10 in Syracuse, -5 in Albany and -4 in Buffalo. New York City was out of the extreme cold belt with a low of 18. Some snow fell in the metropolitan area, in down-state areas and in southern sections.

A larger snow belt extended from northeastern Ohio across Pennsylvania and as far south as Virginia. Freezing rain pelted the Roanoke-Lynchburg, Va., area.

Temperatures moderated in much of the Midwest which has been hit by snow and sub-zero cold this week. Below zero readings, however, were reported in parts of Michigan, including -11 in Saginaw and -1 in Detroit and Grand Rapids.

But International Falls, Minn., which had a low of -32 Thursday morning, warmed to 11 above this morning.

The warming trend appeared headed for much of the north central section, but colder weather was indicated for the Middle Mississippi Valley area eastward through the Carolinas.

Weather outside the cold belt was fairly mild for midwinter and skies were clear in most sections — affording the groundhog a chance to see his shadow and retreat into his hole. That means, as legend has it, more winter weather is on tap. But if there is no shadow, the groundhog will end his hibernation and spring weather will soon arrive.

More fog shrouded areas of California, with the heaviest in valley regions from Bakersfield to Sacramento.

Split on McCone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. J. W. Fulbright and John McClellan of Arkansas split their vote Wednesday as the Senate confirmed the nomination of John A. McCone as director of the Central Intelligence Agency. Fulbright, who opposed the confirmation, said he did so because he did not know enough about McCone's views concerning U.S. foreign policy.

At Last! Two Sides of the Story

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: "I am an 18-year-old high school senior with over-protective parents. Even though I'm of age they still refuse to let me date. Night after night my nice boy friend and I stick around home because my father and mother won't let me go anywhere. They say people will talk about a girl who solo-dates. I don't agree, if the girl behaves herself in a reasonable manner, I'm sensible and capable of taking care of myself but, like anyone my age, I'd appreciate a little freedom while I'm still young enough to enjoy life. Don't you think my folks are being unfair?" —Miserable.

I often wish, as I read letters like this that I might know both sides of the story. No two people see a situation from the same angle, however honest-minded they may be. Sometimes I write the sender and ask if he or she will get the other persons involved to give their version. Silence is the only reply. Now, for the first time, I am able to present both sides of a coin. On the back of the above letter was the following communication from "Miserable's" mother:

Dear Helen: This boy my girl has been telling you about is not nice. That's why we won't let her go out with him. He came to our house Saturday night drunk, so drunk he fell in the ditch. Sunday he was back in his old pickup truck and off they went — he and my girl. After I begged her not to go, I could see a pint bottle of whiskey sticking from his coat pocket.

Providence must have spread protecting wing over her for she came back unharmed but I was a nervous wreck, worrying about what might happen. She calls him a "boy" but he's a man 38 years old, with the name for drinking hard. Once, he broke his leg when drunk. Another time he got into a fight with his brother and was shot at. So don't let my girl fool you.

We have two girls, raised in the right way. I don't intend to let either wreck herself. Folks say they're real nice and I intend they stay so. Drinking isn't the only thing that's bad about this man. He's a mean, penny-piecer. My girl deserves better.

—Worried Mother.

Dear Worried Mother and Daughter: If you could only talk to each other as you have to me, there would be no problem. Perhaps, after reading these two letters, the ice may be broken since both convey the affection you have for one another.

If the friend is 38 and a drunkard, Miserable, being the sensible girl she is, should appreciate the folly of trying to reform him. But were he not a drunkard, he couldn't, at his age, be the man for her. If she had her mind on her studies, and not on him, she should, at 18, be a freshman in college, instead of a senior in high.

The right kind of good times will come and the liberty to enjoy them. Miserable, if you finish the job at hand — complete your academic education.

Dear Helen: My daughter has been invited by her boy friend's mother to visit them at their home. The mother offers to pay girl friend. We met in the ninth grade. I flipped as usual (being a romantic) but told myself to forget her. This I can't do though I realize that at my age, I shouldn't be in love. She confesses to liking me but — and it's a big but — her parents are impossible, especially her father who threatens to throw me out if I show up in his home (isn't it hers too?) again. Should I try having a private talk with him? —Troubled Teen-ager.

Dear Troubled Teen-ager: One thing is for sure, you'll have to make friends with the parents first. Send the mother a pot of hyacinths, or some other spring flower. Work on the father later.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "How To Get Along With An Adolescent."

The Favorite Western Still Rated High

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television industry believes that it takes the audience from September, when its new season starts, to mid-January to shake down to any real viewing habits and valid expressions of likes or dislikes for the wares displayed.

Therefore, networks, sponsors and performers are paying close attention to the early January popularity ratings reported this week by the polling organization the industry considers most authoritative, Nielsen.

It is noteworthy, perhaps, that among Nielsen's 20 most popular programs on the networks, only three were new this year: "Dr. Kildare" and "Hazel" on NBC, and "The Defenders" on CBS. They are listed in sixth, seventh and ninth places. But right on top, win, place and show, are those perennial favorites, "Wagon Train," "Gunsmoke" and "Perry Mason."

Meanwhile, network programmers are deep in plans for next season's delights.

Trend-spotters, who apparently work like racetrack handicappers, figure that next season will be the year of the war programs. A number of producers have stirring, patriotic sagas of World War II in the blueprint stage.

There's a chance CBS' GE Theatre may expand to an hour and move to NBC next season. "Honey" is on the losing end of a ratings fight with "Ben Casey."

with the latter Irishman most likely to be around next season. NBC's "Cain's Hundred" this week was pretty strong stuff—full of rabble-rousers, hate-groups, a sexual assault on a girl who goes mad—and was shown on the evening of a day when the network brass were putting their best statements forward at the Federal Communications Commission hearing.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Sunday—Special report on FCC hearings on TV, NBC, 6:30-7 p.m.; Stan Freberg comedy special, ABC, 6:30-7:30; "The Forgery," NBC, 10-11—drama based on the post-war trial of artist Hans Van Meegeren whose imitations of Vermeer's paintings fooled the experts

Rockefeller's Wife Arrives in Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller has arrived in this divorce capital—apparently to end her 31-year marriage to New York's governor in a quick and quiet way.

They separated in New York several months ago.

Mrs. Rockefeller's attorney, William K. Woodburn of Reno, would not confirm that she came to Nevada for a divorce. "She's here in Reno—period," he said after her arrival Thursday night.

Woodburn, a former Democratic national committeeman, has handled many divorce cases but is not generally known as a divorce specialist.

Six weeks' residence in Nevada is required for filing suit for divorce, which may be granted by a county judge on many grounds. Adultery is the only ground for divorce in New York state, and many New Yorkers establish residence in other states to obtain divorces on different grounds.

Rockefeller is in Des Moines, Iowa, where he attended a Republican dinner Thursday night and was not immediately available for comment on his wife's move.

Mrs. Rockefeller was accompanied by her widowed sister, Mrs. Philip Wallis of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., a fashionable suburb of Philadelphia. Mrs. Rockefeller flew from New York to San Francisco. Woodburn met her at San Francisco and drove her on a 300-mile trip here because fog made air travel impossible.

Neither Rockefeller, 53, nor his wife, 54, has given any public hint of the cause of the breakup of their marriage. They had five children and eight grandchildren.

Their separation—described as amicable—was announced by a family spokesman last Nov. 17.

Two days later they were struck by tragedy. Their youngest son, Michael, 23, was reported missing in the wilds of Dutch New Guinea. A vast search was conducted, but the young explorer finally was given up as lost. He had dived into crocodile-infested water from a disabled native boat off the shore while on an expedition hunting primitive art.

There was widespread speculation that the parents' grief might lead to a reconciliation. But neither ever said a word to bolster such hope.

Various opinions have been expressed in Republican and Democratic ranks on the possible effect of a divorce on Rockefeller's political future. He will run for a second four-year term as governor next fall, and is a possibility for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

The Rockefellers already were living apart when the separation and divorce plans were announced.

Mrs. Rockefeller, the former Mary Todhunter Clark of Philadelphia, is heiress to a railroad fortune. Her maternal grandfather was George Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad for many years.

Her personal wealth, however, ranks far below the millions that have come to her husband from the vast fortune started by his grandfather, oil king John D. Rockefeller.

The separation announcement said a property settlement had been reached. The terms were not disclosed.

frained from voting. Those six countries contain three-quarters of Latin America's 200 million people.

They didn't want to go along with Rusk for various reasons, ranging from the question of whether this was quite the legal way to go about it to pressure from the left-wing elements among their people back home.

But once that particular issue was out of the way all, with the exception of Cuba, voted.

That communism has no place in the inter-American system; to exclude Castro from the inter-American defense board; block arms shipments to and from Cuba, and organize a vigilance system to prevent Cuba from spreading communism in the hemisphere.

Out of these resolutions other steps will, or should, follow, as Rusk indicated at a news conference he called Thursday, two hours after returning home.

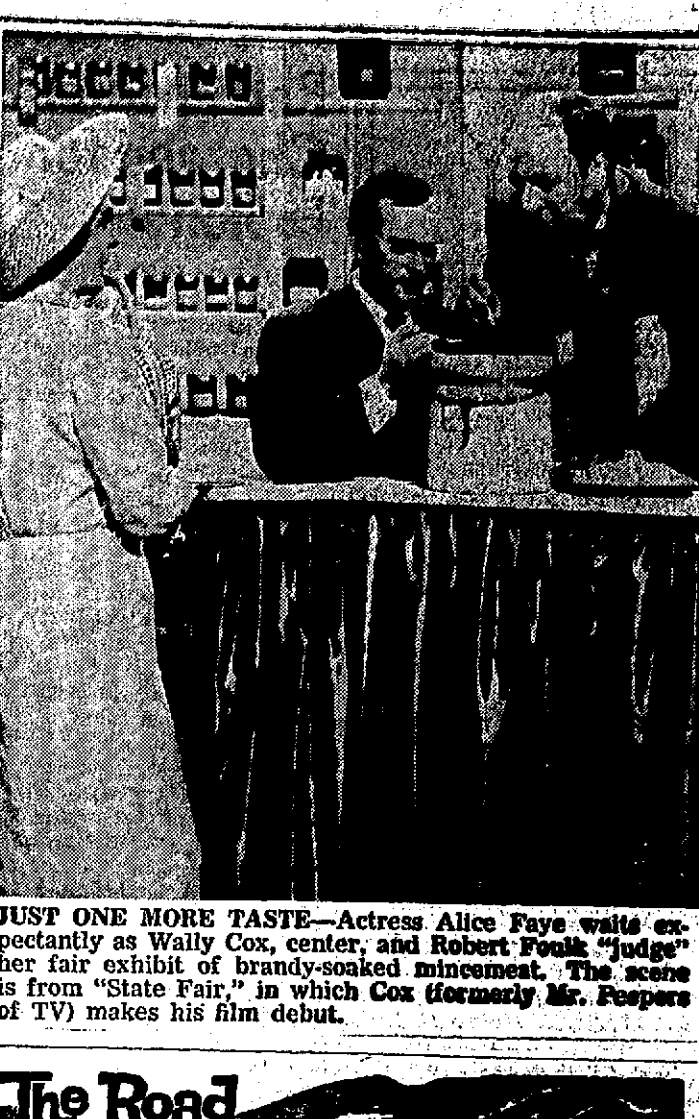

It may be unpalatable to some to see the United States, upon which so many Latin-American nations depend for help, balked if only on one point by those beholden.

Yet it illustrates, as well as anything, the difference between the free association of states in this hemisphere and the Soviet dictatorship which compels compliance from its European satellites.

Before the six Latin-American countries are criticized for being less than 100 per cent agreeable to U.S. wishes, it might be remembered that even such a close ally as French President Charles de Gaulle has been an obstinate and often painful partner.

President Kennedy expressed satisfaction with the outcome. Four members of Congress who accompanied Rusk, two Democrats and two Republicans, called

The Road to the Snail

CHAPTER XXXV

Axelson brushed off the shoulder of his coat with an exasperated gesture. "Now—about our embassy people, I want to point out—"

"Please, Senator, may I say a word?"

It was Francesca who had spoken. She slipped through the crowd, smiling at Axelson. Everyone made way for her; a lane opened up and the Marquesa passed through it gracefully, her high heels clicking on the old cobblestones of her village.

The sun sparkled in her golden hair, and her expression was respectful and demure. But I noticed what could have been a mischievous gleam in her warm brown eyes.

She carried a newspaper in her hand.

"If you please, Senator," she said, "During the recess I came across an interesting article in today's paper. I'd like to read it to the committee."

"Is it relevant to our hearing?"

She smiled. "I think you'd be the best judge of that, Senator."

Axelson scratched his ear. "Maybe I will be, at that. Go ahead, please."

"Do you understand Spanish?"

If not I'll translate it."

"Ma'am, I'm sorry I don't."

Sensor Axelson raised his chin and looked over the crowd. "But I'd like to say I appreciate its contributions to the culture of the world. Furthermore, as chairman of the Pan-American conference held earlier this year in the fair city of Lima, pressed for an extension of our Good Neighbor policy throughout all South America."

"Hush Acorn!" Polly Soames said. "Stop campaigning. Let Francesca go on."

Sensor Axelson's face grew red. Then he recovered to say, "Please translate."

The paper she quoted from was El Sol, a sober daily published in Malaga.

Everyone on the plaza became still as the Marquesa opened up the newspaper. Even the doves settled down and cocked their heads curiously at her. The crowded place was a silent shell into which Francesca's voice fell softly and clearly.

"The story is date-lined Moscow, Senator. I'd like to read what Pravda said yesterday."

Francesca raised her chin and squared her shoulders.

"The American government stands convicted of meddling in the internal affairs of Spain. But the most disturbing fact to all peace-loving nations is that Amer-

There Were Some Gains at Latin Meet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) - This country won less than complete victory in Latin America on dealing with Cuba. But there were some solid achievements.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was the U.S. spokesman and general at the Uruguay meeting of 21 American Foreign ministers, which this country wanted and pushed for.

It showed:

1. Some of the biggest Latin-American nations don't see eye to eye in all details with this country in handling Cuba. Six refused to vote with the United States to expel Fidel Castro from the Organization of American States.
2. Judging from that result, this country either rushed into the meeting too fast, without learning beforehand where those six stood, or it did know but optimistically went ahead, ignoring what it had learned.
3. The United States, big as it is and much as Latin America needs its economic help, is not the absolute hemisphere boss. Realization of this here and in Latin America may turn out to have been this country's greatest benefit from the 10-day meeting.

The biggest test of American influence, and the one on which Rusk worked hardest for days, was on the question of throwing Cuba out of the inter-American system.

In the end the United States and 13 other countries - just enough to put the resolution over - voted to do it.

Cuba, of course, voted against. But Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico re-

Hope Cagers Drop 2 Games to Waldo

By VINCE FOSTER

Hope dropped two games to Waldo last night as the Bobcats were stopped 59-48, and the Lady Cats were taken 69-35.

This non-conference loss for the Cats changes their season record to 12-6 and they remain 5-1 in district play. They trailed throughout the game, although Hope outscored the hosts 17-15 in the second period. The score by quarters was 14-9, 20-26, 48-33, and 59-48. Earl Ray Murphy led Hope with 20, followed by Hatfield taking 12. Porterfield sank 9, Powell 4 and Jones 3. Waldo with four men hitting in double figures was led by Wynn with 17. Jeffery Powell leads the Cats in scoring with 188 points, followed by Porterfield with 179. Hatfield has 162, Murphy 121, Russell 94 and Roberts 86.

In the girls game, the Lady Cats were completely outclassed. They trailed 16-5 in the first quarter and 24-15 at the half. Waldo outscored them 36-20 in the second half to win 69-35. Calhoun was high with 18, followed by Ward with 9, Calicut 7, and Palmer with one.

Saturday the Cats and Killens travel to Malvern for two conference games.

Palmer Now The Hawk of Golfdom

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Just a few years ago the golfers called Ben Hogan "The Hawk" and no one cared to have the great Texan close enough to swoop in and claw up their chances.

The pros feel much the same today about Arnold Palmer, the current "Hawk" of the game, as they head into the third round of the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic. True, Arnold was four strokes behind the leader, Canada's seasoned Stan Leonard, who forged ahead with rounds of 65-67 for 132.

But there are three more rounds to go in this 90-hole marathon and it appeared significant that Palmer now has whipped the two toughest of the four courses in play, Tamarisk and Eldorado country clubs.

Neither Leonard, who observed his 47th birthday today, nor any of the others in front of Palmer at this stage can claim this advantage.

Palmer's 69-67-136 left him eight strokes under par 72 for the two courses. And today, Palmer played the less demanding par 71 Thunderbird Country Club.

Setting out today two shots off the pace were Jacky Cupit, Longview, Tex., who celebrated his 24th birthday Thursday with a 7-under par 65 at Indian Wells Country Club, and Gardner Dickerson.

Alone at 135 was Neil Coles of the 1961 British Ryder Cup team, whose 67 at Tamarisk was his best round of the current California tour.

Jim Ferree's 69 at Tamarisk left him alone at 137.

The 138 group included Jimmy Demaret and U.S. Open champion Gene Littler. Gene's 67-71 was achieved at Tamarisk and Eldorado.

The going was rougher for some of the other name players Thursday. Young Rex Babler Jr., who shared the first round lead with Leonard at 65, took a 74, and Doug Ford, who had an initial 66, fell back with a 74.

Warriors Aim for the Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors have a score to settle in Boston tonight.

This time, however, it isn't against their old National Basketball Association rivals the Boston Celtics. This score-settling is with the lowly New York Knickerbockers, in last place in the Eastern Division.

The Warriors play the Knicks in the first game of a double-header and are looking for revenge. New York is the only team owning a victory over the Warriors in their last nine outings. Boston leads the division by seven games.

Philadelphia, with Wilt Chamberlain scoring 33 points, cooled off Cincinnati 130-109 Thursday night, but failed to make up any ground on Boston which stopped Los Angeles five-game winning string 130-115 in College Park, Md.

Five cities of the United States contain one-tenth of the nation's population. The cities are New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Detroit.

Cincinnati Makes Houston Look Easy

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati has another victory to add to its impressive season's record—thanks to some sparkling play by Ron Bonham and George Wilson, two of the sophomores whose performances brightened Thursday night's college basketball action.

Bonham and Wilson turned in major roles in the top game of the program, Cincinnati's 60-52 decision over Houston. Among other starring sophomores were Vic Rouse and Les Hunter of Chicago Loyola, Miles Aiken of St. Bonaventure, Nick Workman of Seton Hall, Rodger Twitchell of Massachusetts, Tom Lynch of St. Peter's (N.J.) and Davidson's Bill Beerman.

Cincinnati's Bearcats built up an 11-point halftime lead behind the scoring of Bonham and Wilson and then staved off the Cougars' determined comeback after intermission. Houston pulled to within three points toward the end before the Bearcats put it away with six straight foul shots in the final two minutes.

Bonham had 20 and Wilson 19 for Cincinnati, now 16-2. Houston took its fourth loss in 19 games.

Loyola (14-2) blasted Baldwin-Wallace 108-66 at Chicago, with Rouse scoring 25 points and Hunter chipping in with 24. St. Bonaventure put together several spurts and outlasted Seton Hall 113-110 in a scorcher at New York's Madison Square Garden. Aiken paced the Bonnies with 29 points while Workman totaled 40. In the other half of the Garden double header, Massachusetts rapped St. Peter's 94-75. Twitchell was high for Massachusetts, scoring 20, and Lynch had 18 for the losers.

Davidson made it 10 straight by whipping Erskine 71-57. Beerman had his biggest game so far, finishing with 15 points.

Detroit rolled over Michigan 82-74 at Ann Arbor as Dave Debuschere led the Titans with 23 points and the same number of rebounds.

Tulsa beat North Texas 76-61 in the Missouri Valley conference. Eastern Kentucky put a further damper on Morehead's Ohio Valley title chances, tripping Eagles 93-85.

Louisiana State topped Loyola of New Orleans 77-61. Georgetown cut loose in overtime and overcame Fairleigh-Dickinson 84-77. And Cal Poly upset St. Mary's (Calif.) 74-68.

Premier Is Irked, Laos Talks Off

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

LUANG PHABANG, Laos (AP)—Premier Prince Boun Oum, angered by Pathet Lao attacks on the village of Nam Tha, called off a meeting with neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma today. As a result the prospects for early formation of a unified government plunged.

The pro-American premier sent word to Souvanna that he did not think it was a propitious time to meet in view of the attack on Nam Tha, government stronghold 100 miles northwest of this royal capital.

Souvanna, who had been expected here today, thereupon canceled his visit. He was scheduled to arrive from the rebel headquarters of Xieng Khouang for an audience with King Savang Vathana. It had been expected that the visit would lead to further talks with Boun Oum on formation of a three-party government headed by Souvanna.

Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, was expected to be the third party represented in the new government.

In his message to Souvanna, Boun Oum demanded that the estimated six battalions that attacked Nam Tha be pulled back. The fall of Nam Tha would mean the rebel occupation of several thousand square miles in the northwest corner of Laos bordering Red China. Enemy mortars began shelling the village air strip Thursday from a range of a little over three miles.

Montreal's 5-2 triumph over Toronto extended the streaking Canadiens' record to 11 straight and improved their leading margin to six points.

That, combined with Chicago's 7-4 decision over the Red Wings, put New York one-point ahead of Detroit in fourth place—the last playoff spot.

Ouachita Adds to AIC Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ouachita's Tigers, clinging to second place in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race, whipped College of the Ozarks 102-90 in Clarksville Thursday night and pushed their league record to 8-2.

Ouachita, Arkansas Tech or Henderson could move into a tie for the lead tonight if top-notch Arkansas State Teachers College loses its game with Arkansas College in Batesville.

The ASTC-Highlander fracas highlights a three-game AIC card. Arkansas Tech (6-2) visits Southern State at Magnolia and Henderson goes against Harding in a battle of second-division clubs.

State Teachers is 8-1 after a victory over Ozarks Tuesday night and rates a slight favorite's roll in the league race. But Henderson, Ouachita and Tech each have lost only twice.

Ouachita hit a brilliant 67 percent of its field goal attempts in beating Ozarks Thursday night. Ouachita got a 28-point performance from Leon Clements, and Ozarks' James Stanton led his team with an equal amount.

Wayne Davenport hit 23 points and Doyle Barks 20 for Ouachita. Richard Kruse scored 27 for Ozarks. Ozarks' starter Cleve Branscum and Ouachita frontliners Phil Franz and Wendell Bryant missed the game because of flu.

Ozarks, at 2-9, remains in the conference cellar.

Saturday night, Arkansas Tech is at Louisiana Tech, Ouachita is at Delta State, Miss., and Arkansas College entertains Little Rock University in non-conference games. The only league bout scheduled is between Henderson and A&M at Monticello.

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Five schools in the Batesville district and those at Newark, Pleasant Plains and Cushman were closed again today because of influenza.

At Pleasant Plains 129, students, 37 per cent of the enrollment, were out with influenza Thursday.

Fort Smith in Victory Over El Dorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Young hit two free throws in the last eight seconds to account for Fort Smith's 43-41 Big Nine Conference basketball victory over El Dorado Thursday night. The Grizzlies remained within striking distance of the league lead.

Little Rock Central broke a five-game losing streak with a 57-45 victory over flu-hobbled Hot Springs.

An important round of conference play is set tonight. League-leading Little Rock Hall visits dangerous North Little Rock and second-place Blytheville goes to Pine Bluff.

Fort Smith plays again at El Dorado and Hot Springs visits Texarkana. Central meets Conway in a non-league game.

Fort Smith boosted its league record to 5-3, just behind Blytheville's 8-3. Hall is 8-1.

Young was the guiding force throughout for the Grizzlies. He hit 14 of 17 free throws and led scoring with a total of 20 points. Ray Flemans paced El Dorado with 13 points.

It was close all the way, with the score tied 19-19 at halftime at 32-32 at the end of the third quarter.

Hot Springs took only eight players to Little Rock to meet Central. Starter John Beebe stayed home with the flu and starters Don Little and Bill Walker had a trace of the virus when they reached Little Rock.

Waller led the Trojans with 17 points and Glen Staples paced Central with 15.

Three Trojans fouled out, and Coach Nathan McCauley finished the game without a man in reserve.

Secrecy Lid to Come Off of Stockpiles

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress looked to President Kennedy today to pave the way for an investigation of the nation's war-emergency stockpile by formally removing the lid of secrecy from its contents.

The President already has said "the cold facts on this matter must be open to the public" and suggested that a Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., undertake the inquiry.

Symington interpreted Kennedy's remarks at Wednesday's news conference as a "green light" from the White House for his subcommittee to have "a good look at what's going on."

"We have always been told before these items could not be declassified," Symington said at a news conference of his own.

But a few hours before Symington met reporters, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. got into the act. He said his joint committee on non-sensational government expenditures would study the $7.7-billion accumulation of metals, minerals and tools.
